

Judge Signs Restraining Order Against Picketing

GATES WILL OPEN TODAY for the 1958 edition of the Riverside County Fair and Date Festival, and festivities were started last night with a press-preview on the fair grounds. The Riverside County division of the California Publishers Association were guests on the fairgrounds, and they elected new officers and were presented with a box of dates from the fair committee. Shown above holding the boxes of dates are, left to right, publishers Ward Grant of the Coachella Valley Sun; Ole Nordlund of the Indio News and Date Palm; and Ward Risvold of The Daily Desert Sun. The fair will run for ten days, and a record crowd of more than last year's 200,000 is expected to attend during the 10 days.

Gambling Club Attracts Curious At Preview Peek

Defying any warning by Sheriff Joe Rice, backers and operators of the Silver Palm Social Club threw open the doors last night at a preview showing to allow Palm Springs residents a peek at the luxurious card casino.

Many Palm Springs citizens and visitors made a visit to the plush red carpeted casino, enjoying cocktails and buffet, served by waitresses.

ACTUAL CARD playing was not started last night, nor will it be done tonight, on the second night of the preview opening of the club.

Bobby Garcia, club manager, said last night that by midnight he had accepted "1,700 memberships at $5 per" in the new Social Club.

In order to play cards in the clubhouse, it is necessary to become a member of the organization known as the Silver Palm Social Club, and, according to Garcia, the membership is screened and exclusive. Dues are $5 a year and will allow the holder of the card to come into the club, play either poker, high-low, gin rummy or bridge, and to be served food prepared for the club.

THE OPENING RAN from 6 p.m. to 1 a.m. and people poured into the spacious club. Bright lights illuminated the palms and exterior of the building, and at the front door a uniformed private police officer stood guard.

Desert Sun photographer Fred Weigel was stopped by two private officers who would not let him in without clearance, but Garcia approved the taking of pictures.

SHERIFF JOE RICE again made his position clear today by saying that if the club is opened for gambling tomorrow, he would close it and put both the players and the kibitzers in jail.

150 Delegates to Attend Area NAACP Conference

Some 150 delegates from Southern California and Nevada are expected to attend the quarterly southern area conference of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People here Saturday.

Mayor Jerry Sanborn and other civic dignitaries will address conference delegates when the meeting gets under way at 9 a.m. Saturday, at 2900 East Ramon Road.

PALM SPRINGS NAACP president Lawrence Chatman said that this is the first southern area conference meeting ever held in Palm Springs.

Association representatives scheduled to attend the area conference are Franklin H. William and Mrs. Pitman H. Hall of San Francisco, and Southern Area President Frank Barnes, of Los Angeles.

The conference program features discussions and workshops on NAACP problems, Chatman said.

CITY AND COUNTY officials expected to address delegates from Las Vegas, Los Angeles, San Diego, Riverside, San Bernardino and other Southernland cities include Police Chief August Kettmann, City Councilman Jerry Sanborn, Sheriff's Lt. Ed Brown, of Banning, and other dignitaries.

The meeting will adjourn at 3 p.m. Luncheon will be served. The public is invited to attend the conference sessions.

Superior Court Judge Hilton McCabe late yesterday signed and issued a restraining order against the Culinary and Bartenberg Local 535 to restrain the organization from having pickets in front of two local restaurants, the Saddle and Sirlion and Lyons Prime Rib House.

The action came after papers were drawn by Palm Springs attorney Warren Slaughter for Dave Lyons, operator of the restaurants.

THE HEARING ON the case will be held next Friday in the Department of Special Sessions, Department Four, with Judge Bertram D. James presiding at the Elks Club hall at 9 a.m.

The application for the restraining order, which asked also for $100,000 in damages, was drawn as a result of an opinion handed down by the California State Supreme Court last month, and which completely changes three California labor laws which effect inter-state commerce.

THE FINDING BY the high court says in effect that employees have the right to choose their own representatives for bargaining with their employer and that he "shall be free of interference, restraint, or coercion."

Accompanying the requests for legal action were affidavits from employees saying that they did not want to be represented by the union which was picketing the establishments.

Accused FCC Official Asks Early Hearing

WASHINGTON — Federal Communications Commissioner Richard A. Mack requested an early chance today to appear before House investigators and answer the "unsubstantiated charges, accusations, innuendos and distortions so recklessly made" against him.

Mack, accused of accepting $2,650 in a contested television channel case, said in response to a question that he had no thought of resigning.

Fourth Freeze Of Winter Hits Snowy Florida

Fresh Snows Also Plague Great Lakes

By UNITED PRESS

The fourth and possibly worst freeze of the winter hit into snow-covered Northern Florida today and fresh snows plagued the West, the Great Lakes and the Northeast.

However, the first break in the marathon cold wave across the eastern two-thirds of the country appeared Thursday. Southerly winds boosted temperatures as much as 20 degrees in parts of the Mississippi Valley.

THE "WARMING trend" spread during the night over most of the Plains and part of the Ohio Valley. Despite the temperature rise, overnight readings still were near freezing as far south as Oklahoma and the Texas Panhandle.

There was no let-up in the week-long eastern cold snap. Temperatures plunged into the teens in upper Florida early today and into the 20s in most of the central and southern sections.

THE COLDEST and wettest winter in Florida history already has wiped out its vegetable crop and dealt a crippling blow to its billion-dollar tourist, livestock and fruit industries. Thousands of Florida cattle have died of starvation.

The cold and stormy weather continued to take a grim death toll. A United Press count showed at least 129 persons dead from weather-caused traffic accidents and fires, exposure and overexertion since Feb. 6.

Weather
Desert area forecast:
Sunny today. Increasing cloudiness tonight and Saturday with few showers likely Saturday mostly north portion. Windy north portion Saturday afternoon. Slightly warmer today and north portion tonight. Slightly cooler Saturday. Highs today 58-78 upper valleys, 70-80 lower valleys.
Yesterday's high was 75; low, 48.

BACKERS OF REDISTRICTING held a "Town Hall Meeting" last night in the council chambers at the City Hall, with some 100 residents in attendance. The meeting was declared "very successful" in explaining to the voters the arguments in favor of equal representation. Pictured above are, left to right, Robert Irwin of Riverside, speaker at the meeting, Councilman Jerry Nathanson, Ted McKinney and Leonard Wolf, backers of redistricting and representatives of 83 per cent of the voters in Palm Springs, and seated, Morton Weisman, chairman for the meeting who also is a candidate for election in the proposed District 9. Jordan, Iraq Officially Join In Federal Union AMMAN Jordan — Jordan and Iraq today officially linked themselves in a federal union with a central government and parliament, one army, one foreign policy and one economy.

Kings Hussein of Jordan and Feisal of Iraq, 22-year-old cousins, signed the official document proclaiming their federation at Hussein's Basman Palace early today after nightlong negotiations. An Iraqi official said King Feisal would be the permanent symbolic head of the federated kingdom but each monarch will retain his domestic crown. The central government will alternate between Baghdad and Amman every six months.

The new state will have a central parliament to regulate affairs of the federation. From it will be drawn a council of ministers to form a central government.

'Town Hall' Audience Hears Appeal for Redistricting

Equal representation for the people of Palm Springs was the theme of last night's Town Hall Meeting conducted by Councilman Ted McKinney, Leonard Wolf and Jerry Nathanson, who are acting as an independent organization in favor of redistricting.

The meeting was presided over by Morton Weissman, council candidate for District 9, and speaker was Bob Irwin of Riverside.

IRWIN EXPLAINED to the large audience attending the meeting in the council chambers at the city hall, the basis on which this country was formed and explained the importance of equal representation as well as the art of gerrymandering and how, by leaving districts in an unnatural or unfair way, this would give a political party or group, representing a minority group an advantage.

Irwin pointed out that facts were facts "and a look at the facts concerning the redistricting of Palm Springs can leave no doubt that it would be a benefit." He said that the opposition "has apparently taken the viewpoint

To Interrupt Vacation at Atlantic City

May Participate In Debate at U. N. Next Week

WASHINGTON — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles may interrupt his vacation in order to deal personally with the French-Tunisian crisis, the State Department disclosed today.

Department Press Officer Lincoln White said Dulles has been following the crisis "closely" and "is giving consideration to returning to Washington Monday, at least for a few days."

WHITE WAS ASKED whether Dulles' possible return is linked to the French-Tunisian crisis.

"Obviously, yes!" he replied.

Dulles left Washington Tuesday afternoon for Atlantic City, N.J., for a rest. He told newsmen upon his departure that he did not expect to return to Washington before the middle of next week. White acknowledged that a return Monday would mean a change in the secretary's plans.

THE STATE Department announcement raised the possibility that Dulles may go to New York for U. N. Security Council debate on the crisis touched off by the French bombing attack last weekend on a Tunisian village.

There have been reports that the Security Council may take up the issue early next week. White said he did not know whether Dulles would go to New York.

EVEN AS THE department announced a probable early return by Dulles, Senate Republican leader William F. Knowland urged that the secretary seek an immediate meeting of the Security Council if there is another military outbreak between France and Tunisia.

"The situation in Tunisia is highly inflammatory and could have the gravest consequences," Knowland told newsmen. "France made a serious blunder in its attack on the Tunisian border town. It is time to rectify their action and not amplify it."

Plane Wreckage Is Grim Reminder of Narrow Escape 21 Had from Death

GUTTED WRECKAGE of a once-sleek Western Air Lines Convair litters the desert north of Palm Springs, bearing mute testimony to a harrowing episode faced by 21 passengers and crew members who escaped death yesterday afternoon. The twin-engine airliner plunged into the ground when a section of wing ripped off a few minutes after takeoff from Palm Springs Airport, investigators said. Three crew members and uninjured passengers moved swiftly through the shattered craft, dragging their injured and dazed flying companions to safety instantly before thousands of gallons of gasoline erupted in an explosion that reduced the big plane to flaming rubble. Sheriff's deputies, Village police and highway patrolmen arrived on the scene a few minutes later, pitching in to help uninjured passengers and crewmen administer first aid and comfort to their less fortunate fellows, right photo. One passenger, suffering from shock, was swathed in a woman passenger's fur coat (foreground) while another passenger comforts an injured woman (center background) and other rescuers cluster around the most seriously injured passenger, (right background) John Ferni-cano of San Diego, who suffered a compound fracture of his right leg. Seven passengers were admitted to Desert Hospital for injuries and shock. Five others received emergency treatment for minor wounds. Passenger George Cameron, of Seattle, Wash., who suffered a dislocated shoulder, related that he saw pieces of wing skin flaking off moments after the plane lifted from the airport runway. A chunk of the wing sheared off before the craft could rise more than a few hundred feet. Cameron opened an emergency hatch even as the plane plowed into the ground and shattered itself against a huge boulder. As the craft slammed to a stop, Stewardess Barbara Grimes, 24, of Los Angeles, led passengers to safety as Pilot Richard E. Schumacher, of Newport Beach, and Co-Pilot James R. Lebel of Van Nuys, dragged off injured men and women before dripping gasoline torched the blaze that was visible from Palm Springs. Only resort area resident to board the San Diego-bound plane here was Mrs. Dorothy R. Massie, of Cathedral City, who received emergency treatment at Desert Hospital. ROYALTY FROM THE WORLD of jazz bows into the Chi Chi Starlite Room Friday night when Duke Ellington ushers his 15-piece orchestra into a 10 day Village engagement. Composer, musician and leader of an orchestra that whips up "sounds no other band can play," Ellington's fame as one of the nation's ranking jazz kings has spread over more than two decades. In his first Palm Springs appearance "the Duke" is dishing up the full treatment for Village music lovers, including such familiar compositions as his own "Mood Indigo," "Sophisticated Lady," and the award winning "Solitude" and "Caravan."

State Juvenile Delinquency Investigators Move to N.Y.

NEW YORK — — — Senate juvenile delinquency investigators confer with top New York school officials today in the wake of fresh teenage violence that included a daylight robbery of junior high school students.

James L. Sullivan, chief counsel for the Senate subcommittee on juvenile delinquency, scheduled an afternoon meeting with superintendent of schools William Jansen and other officials on New York's handling of violence in the schools.

THE SUBCOMMITTEE will hold public hearings here Feb. 27 and 28.

In the latest outbreak of youthful lawlessness two Negro youths estimated to be 16 and 19 years old invaded the Macombs Junior High School in the Bronx.

Brandishing a long knife and club, they rounded up seven fourth- and fifth-grade children, aged 12 to 14, and a 13-year-old girl. From the boys the robbers took a total of about $6 and four wristwatches. They did not rob or otherwise molest the girls. All the victims were white.

DETECTIVES MEANWHILE questioned relatives and neighbors of a pretty, black-haired high school student, Lillian Mojica, 16, whose beaten and partly burned body was found in the cellar of her Manhattan home. The girl, New York-born daughter of Puerto Rican parents, had a hole in the top of her head apparently from a severe blow. The upper part of her body was charred and her clothes were burned off.

Her brother, Richard, 15, reported the grisly find when he returned home from school and neighbors notified police.

IN OTHER developments: —A key witness at the trial of seven teenagers charged with first degree murder in the stabbing death of a polio-crippled youngster testified that he had been the "warlord" of a youth gang called the Egyptian Dragons.

—A 15-year-old high school sophomore whose name was withheld and 17-year-old Robert Harrison were arrested on car theft charges in Queens Borough.

—A BOMB WARNING was telephoned anonymously to the Board of Education at its headquarters in Brooklyn. Police searched the building but found nothing.

—The Board of Education announced that its get-tough policy under which more than 644 troublesome high school and elementary pupils have been suspended from classes since last Friday would end April 1. By that time the board expects the "intolerable" wave of violence that led to the crackdown will have been brought under control.

Navy Opposes Closing of U.S. Mexican Border

SAN DIEGO — — — The commandant of the 11th Naval District says that the official Navy viewpoint opposes closing the United States-Mexico border to teenagers.

Rear Adm. Charles C. Hartman, commenting Thursday on plans to have the border closed, said he did not feel teenagers—whether they be servicemen or civilians—should be restricted from entering Mexico.

The commandant said that the Navy had "absolutely no say so" as to whether its personnel here could frequent the barrooms and other attractions of Tijuana.

Lanza Suffers Tooth Infection

ROME — — — Film star Mario Lanza has been forced to postpone a two-week singing tour of England because of a serious tooth infection, his wife reported today.

The singer's wife said the engagements which were due to start Feb. 16 have been postponed until March 3.

Daring Climbers Risk Their Lives To Find Death

Daring climbers risked death to reach the mountain ledge north of Banning where a 14-year-old boy had been trapped for 25 hours, but arrived too late to save him.

The death of Donald Burns was reported over a walkie-talkie radio by John Matthews of the Sierra Madre Search and Rescue Team soon after he was lowered to the ledge by a half-inch rope Thursday afternoon.

THE BOY'S PARENTS, Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Burns, Colton, Calif., watched from below as Matthews edged across the ledge to where their injured son had lain for hours without moving. Then after the report Mrs. Burns sobbed, "Oh God, don't let it be true."

Young Burns slipped from a trail 5,000 feet up on 11,485-foot Mount San Geronimo during a Lincoln's Birthday outing with school chums. He fell 300 feet to the ledge.

TEAMS OF CLIMBERS from Norton Air Force Base, sheriff's deputies and the Southern California Mountain Club braved wind and sleet in their attempts to rescue the boy.

One team reached to within 75 feet of Donald but could not cross a last sheer stretch of cliff. John Waved at rescuers before dark Wednesday and was seen to move slightly Thursday. But he had shown no sign of life for several hours before the Sierra Madre arrived.

MEMBERS OF THE team dropped down from the top, got into position near the ledge which trapped young Burns and then lowered Matthews to it.

Four attempts to reach the boy by a helicopter failed earlier. Sharp gusts of cold wind threatened to slam the "copter against the cliff.

The helicopter hovered near the scene to drop a litter to the climbers. They brought the boy's body up the cliff.

Mrs. Burns gazed stoically as Matthews edged across the ledge to where her injured son had lain for hours without moving and then sobbed, "Oh God. Don't let it be true," when the report came that Donald was dead.

King of Swing To Be Atom-Age Good Will Envoy

NEW YORK — — — The King of Swing of the 1930's has agreed to become an atom-age American ambassador of good will.

Benny Goodman, his band trio and sextet, will give a series of concerts at the Brussels World's Fair during the week of May 25-31, under sponsorship of the Westinghouse Electric Co., the firm's president, Donald H. McGannon announced Thursday.

"The great Benny Goodman orchestra... will add a dimension to the Brussels Fair in which the Soviet Union can not compete," McGannon said. "American jazz has been shown to be a great force for good will abroad." The bandleader agreed. "We look upon the Brussels engagement as a real opportunity to foster good will for the United States through music," Goodman said.

Education Board Approves Plans for 6 New Classrooms

Palm Springs Board of Education members last night entered the second stage of a $2,138,000 school building program with approval of preliminary plans for six Nellie N. Coffman Junior High School classrooms.

Construction of the half-dozen, all-steel classroom units will begin June 2, simultaneously with work on 10 prefabricated steel classrooms for Palm Springs High School.

Architect Don Wexler told the board that working drawings will be ready for approval by April 17 on both school projects, costing an estimated $346,343.

Wexler envisioned awarding of bids by May 27 start of construction by June 2 and completion of all 16 classrooms by Sept. 5, well in time for the beginning of the fall term.

Scorpions Plan Car Wash Again All Day Sunday

Sunday is car wash day again for Scorpion Auto Club members. The club is staging a day-long car wash at Hinkle and Johnson Flying A Service station, 305 North Indian Avenue.

Starting at about 8 a.m., club members will wash cars for $1 each. As an extra feature of the club's third Village car wash, members will wax and polish your auto for $10.

Proceeds of the wash 'n wax program will be used to help finance construction of a special competition car now being built by members, who contribute their spare time and energy for the club project.

During recent weeks, the club has sponsored two similar car washes, contributing a large chunk of their proceeds to various area charities.

The club now meets weekly at the apartment of Don Ruzicka, Apartment 4 in The Center, at 8 p.m., Mondays.

"LADY OF LOURDES SHRINE" was visited in Palm Springs by 12-year-old Rosemary Cosgrove this week as more than 60,000 pilgrims simultaneously marked the 100th anniversary of the original shrine in Lourdes, France. This authentic replica of the Shrine was created by Dr. Kenneth Cosgrove, M.D., at his Village home, 1170 Cactus Drive. A perpetual stream of water, brought from the original Shrine, flows through the replica. Dr. Cosgrove said that thousands of pilgrims annually visit the Lourdes grotto where 16-year-old Bernade Subirous saw a vision of the Virgin Mary 100 years ago. Many pilgrims dip into the constant flow of water at the French Shrine in hopes of regaining physical and spiritual health. Records acknowledge the fact that 54 such health seekers have been cured of their ailments in what the Catholic Church accepts as miraculous occurrences. Dr. Cosgrove said These cures, he added, are certified but cannot be explained by medical science. (Desert Sun Photo)

Penny Crusade To Be Held by Students Feb. 15

Fifteen "student ambassadors" from Palm Springs High School will launch a door-to-door penny crusade throughout the Village area Saturday.

Student spokesman Donivee Ellison said that Palm Springs residents and businessmen will be asked to contribute pennies for a fund designed to finance a spring tour of the nation's capital for the high school group.

THE YOUNG "ambassadors" are planning a Washington, D.C., tour in late spring. The group will visit various governmental agencies, Congress and the Senate for a first hand glimpse of the Federal Government in action.

The penny crusade will open early Saturday morning. Student solicitors will wear identified articles of red, white and blue clothing, Miss Ellison said.

GOAL FOR THE drive is 100,000 pennies, Miss Ellison said. Students plan to call on various Village stores and business firms while simultaneously conducting a house-to-house campaign.

Student ambassadors are juniors and seniors who were selected as "ambassadors" on the basis of points amassed for extra studies and work-in civics.

BOB MILLS, well known in Northern California hotel circles as "Little Bob," has plenty to smile about. He's landed the coveted job as manager of Dave Margolis and Jack Dempsey's fashionable Palm Springs hotel, Howard Manor. Mills carved an enviable career as hotelier in the Carmel Valley and San Francisco areas before coming to Howard Manor. (Gayle Studio Photo)

Noted Northern Hotelman Is Howard Manor Manager

Howard Manor Owner-Operator Dave Margolis announced yesterday that Bob Mills, well known Northern California hotelman, has been appointed manager of the fashionable desert spa.

Mills comes to Howard Manor direct from his managerial post at San Francisco's Caravan Lodge, which Dave Margolis and former heavyweight boxing champ Jack Dempsey sold last fall.

MILLS HAS AN illustrious background in the operation of restaurants and hotels as his family owned and operated a chain of restaurants in Pittsburgh and Cleveland.

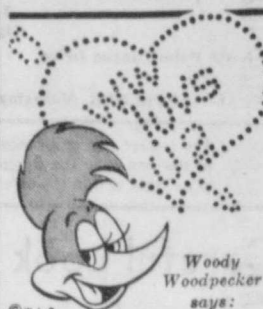

A hotel career beckoned for Mills while he was attending Cornell University in Ithaca, N.Y. During summer vacation he got a dream assignment as manager of the Ahwahnee Hotel at Yosemite National Park and a promising law career went out the window.

THE NEXT SEMESTER he attended at Cornell found him adding a hotel and restaurant training course to his curriculum.

Resort hotel work in the Carmel Valley attracted him most, and he launched an outstanding career there in 1951.

USC Alumni To Hold Dinner

Alumni of the University of Southern California are being invited to an informal dinner to be held Feb. 23 at the Desert Air Hotel.

Sponsored by the Palm Springs-Coachella Valley Trojan Alumni Club, the event is being directed by Randall Henderson, club president.

Guest speakers will be Don Clark, football coach whose subject will be the 1958 prospects. Nick Pappas, field secretary of the General Alumni Association, will explain "The Pacific Coast Conference" and Arnold Eddy, executive secretary will speak on the topic of "A New Era Begins."

A non-technical explanation of "Guided Missile-Satellites" will be given by Howard Carrington, associate director of the SC Engineering Center.

Reservations may be made through Henderson at FI 4-6250 or addressed to the Desert Magazine at Palm Desert.

FBI Agent Calls for Return To Discipline of 'Old Days'

Return to the discipline of the "good old days" in the home would go far to reduce the growing juvenile delinquency trend in the nation, D. K. Brown, special investigator for the Federal Bureau of Investigation, told Lions Club members and their guests Thursday noon in the Starlite Room of the Chi Chi.

"Teach the youngsters the meaning of the word, 'responsibility,' let them know that their conduct reflects on other members of their family, that they are responsible for what they do, that swift and sure punishment will result if they go the wrong way," he said.

BROWN ALSO SAID that to call it "juvenile delinquency" is wrong. "It is juvenile crime," he said. "Why not call it that?"

He added that the theory that broken homes are the cause of juvenile crime has been exploded. Juvenile crime is going up while the divorce rate is going down, citing figures for the past 10 years.

THERE ARE 12 million one hundred thousand odd known criminals in the nation, he said. One out of every 30 persons you meet has either been arrested and accused of a crime or arrested and convicted.

"In America, for every one dollar contributed to the churches, we pay $11 because of crime," he said.

Crime prevention is not a law enforcement problem alone, it is a social problem, Brown said. It needs a more thorough study. Augmented police won't do it alone.

"SOME PEOPLE say that the increased juvenile delinquency rate is because what used to be looked upon as merely pranks are now called crimes. But the kids' pranks of yesterday were never as serious as the crimes of today," he added.

Tom Kieley was program chairman for the day and introduced the speaker.

PRIOR TO BROWN'S talk, the club honored Boys Scout week with Herbert Samson as chairman. Knute Skjoberg spoke on a Scout trip to the Sierras and David Michel on a trip to Valley Forge.

Both are Explorer Scouts. President Elmer Walberg presided at the meeting.

Colorful Equestrian Classes Highlight Weekend at Fair

Colorful equestrian classes and a special event are scheduled this weekend for visitors to the horse show of the Riverside County Fair and National Date Festival, which starts today.

The Indio horse show will run the first eight days of the fair, and for the final weekend Cirque Araby, a European style circus takes over the arena.

HORSE SHOW COLOR ranges from pink coats of liveried huntsmen and pastel frocks of Shetland pony drivers, to bright hues of costumed Arabian, parade horses, and rooster racers.

Saturday's program, set to begin at 1 p.m., in the arena, will show jumpers, stock horses, Tennessee walkers, three-gaited and five-gaited mares, hunters, fine harness horses, parade mounts, and Shetland ponies.

ACCORDING TO Frank Jordano, Jr., horse show manager, Saturday's Shetlands are a "fancy turnout" class, added to the Indio show for the first time, and rated as one of the most appealing in the arena.

The small pony carts are driven by children under 10 years of age, the boy dressed in top hat and tails, the girl in organdy frock and bonnet.

This event is scheduled for Feb. 15 only, and will appear later in the afternoon's program.

PARADE HORSES add color with their heavily silvered saddles and bridles, carrying riders in elaborate garb.

On Saturday, the intermission features the Blythe Teenage Quadrille in a horseback maneuver that involves speed, skill, and rhythm. The group is well known throughout Southern California for its riding ability.

Sunday's color will come from more parade mounts, the costumed Arabian class, liveried hunters, roosters, and the Palomino sweepstakes.

BECAUSE OF THE great interest in Arabians throughout the desert area, the costumed Arabian class is well received at the fairgrounds. Purebred horses and their riders wear authentic garb of the desert East, adding to the atmosphere surrounding the arena.

Other events for the weekend are the driver classes, jumping, stock horses, and gaited competitions. At intermission time throughout the run of the horse show, camels race for the fans.

Free horse show programs are scheduled at 9 a.m. on both Saturday and Sunday. Schedule for Feb. 15 includes several junior horse show events.

Jordano lists 442 horses for the 1958 fair and festival, a record high for the annual event. It is about 75 more than the number that competed last year. Numerous champions are entered.

The Desert Sun is an independent newspaper dedicated to truth, accuracy, and impartiality in the news; to the progress of the desert region; to the support of that which it believes to be right and to the defeat of that which it believes to be wrong.

Careful Look Should Be Taken at County Districts

For some time now, a Board of Freeholders has been formulating the basis of a plan for a change to a Charter form of government in Riverside County.

Recently agreement was reached, in principle, on the re-alignment of boundaries of supervisorial districts to give more equal representation to the people at large.

While firm district lines have not yet been exactly decided, it is indicated that the plan to be presented to voters for adoption will provide for a single provisor for the desert area (as at present); the creation of a new western district for the Pass, mountain and upland district including Idyllwild, San Jacinto and Hemet, and three districts in the Riverside City section.

For many years the desert region has suffered from lack of a proportionate representation on the Riverside County Board of Supervisors with nearly half of the county's total assessed valuation, and more than a third of the registered voters, the desert empire has had only one supervisor.

Despite the almost heroic services of the late Supervisor Homer W. Varner, and the effective and forceful representation of the present Supervisor George V. Berkey, the Desert Empire frequently comes out on the short end in matters controlled by the four other Supervisors elected by the people of Riverside City.

Any change for improvement would be welcome as compared to the notoriously unfair gerrymandering which has existed these many years.

But, if the supervisorial lines are so drawn that the City of Riverside remains in control of three districts, the long hope of the desert residents for equal representation will be lost.

Measured on any fair yardstick, especially from the standpoints of assessed valuation and population, the Desert region — from the "pass" to the Salton Sea — should have two supervisorial districts. On the same basis, the Riverside metropolitan vicinity is entitled to two districts, and the western uplands and mountains are entitled to one district.

Due to its more rapid growth, and the vastly greater area involved, the desert must have TWO supervisors, not only to establish equal representation, but also to provide proper and adequate service to the people in all branches of County government.

Since the final lines of the proposed new supervisorial districts are now being discussed by the Board of Freeholders, it is to be hoped that they will be located in absolute fairness with a view to ending the unbearable gerrymandering of the past, and to give the desert region equal representation in County government now, and for all time to come.

Anything short of that is a waste of time and certain to bring resentment, and defeat at the polls.

Tell Me---Have You Noticed?

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Busy men often overlook matters of importance, so I have no apology in addressing certain men on certain matters, such as:

Senator Lister Hill, chairman, Labor-Public Welfare Committee, Capitol Hill.

DEAR SENATOR: As chairman of the committee handling President Eisenhower's education bills, you should look to another Eisenhower for some real thinking on the subject.

Dr. Milton Eisenhower, president of Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore, recently made a speech which contained a whole program for revamping American education. This is it:

1. Aim for quality, not quantity.
2. Unload the school curriculums of all "peripheral" (junk) courses.

3. DISCOURAGE COLLEGE-for-everybody by adding a 15th high-school year for students who want vocational training.

4. To take the boredom out of education "increase the academic load of all students . . . it happens that most students do better work with a heavy load than with a light one."

5. Sectionalize all classes so that bright boys are segregated from the boneheads, and quality forces ahead.

6. Go back to educational fundamentals. "There is no substitute . . . for . . . mathematics, English, a foreign language, science, history and social studies."

IT SHOULD NOT escape your notice as a Democratic stalwart, Senator Hill, that Dr. Eisenhower's educational program is very much unlike a political platform. Instead of blubbering about the underprivilege of American students, Milton Eisenhower comes close to saying that we have too much of everything.

Our problem, says Dr. Eisenhower, "is not a quantitative one, as many people seem to think. We have, as I have said 41 million students in formal educational programs now; three million of these are in our colleges and universities. No other nation on earth even approaches quantities such as these."

MEN WHO TALK this way are not preaching self-pity to the masses, are not offering new baubles in exchange for votes, and are not going anywhere in politics. It might be a good idea, Senator Hill, to get Dr. Eisenhower's speech and paste it on your committee-room wall.

Walter Reuther, Esq., United Auto Workers' Headquarters, Detroit.

Dear Mr. Reuther: On Jan. 23, Senator William Knowland (R., Cal.), introduced a comprehensive bill (S.3068) to amend the Taft-Hartley Labor Act. I am sure it has come to your attention, but the point is it has been brought to the attention of the 17 million union members, many of whom are affiliated in the AFL-CIO, of which you are vice president?

I HAVE A REASON for raising this question. On Feb. 1, the weekly tabloid "AFL-CIO News" made its appearance with a front-page, two-column headline: "Increase the academic load of all students . . . it happens that most students do better work with a heavy load than with a light one."

There were five by Senator Mundt (S.D.), four by Senator Ives (N.Y.), three by Senator Smith (N.J.), who is the White House agent in this respect, and one by Senator Goldwater (Ariz.).

There was no mention that I could discover of the Knowland bill although it went into the Senate hopper on the same day as the Smith-White House bill and although it received considerable attention.

ONE OF MY SPIES on Labor affairs gives me this reason why the AFL-CIO leaders should blank out news of the Knowland bill: He said:

"They don't want the rank and file to find out what a good bill it is for the rank and file." It is this angle, Mr. Reuther, which may have escaped your attention. On the grounds that you know more union members than I do, I provide the summary which your newspaper left out. I hope you and other readers will pass it along to the rank and file.

THE KNOWLAND bill, in brief, makes no attempt to set up collective bargaining machinery. The Senator's bill is confined to one purpose: establishment of self-rule within the unions. There are some provisions which management wouldn't like, other provisions which individual workers won't like. But this democratic bill in its entirety will be loathed by union bosses, if any there be, who are either dictatorial or dishonest. The verbiage of the Knowland bill are these provisions:

Recall of any offending union officer. The recall machinery is to be set in motion by a petition of 15 per cent of the union members.

INITIATIVE OF union legislation. A referendum upon petition of 15 per cent of the union members is to be made by secret ballot on such questions as: amending union constitution and rules, vetoing decisions of union officials on matters such as dues, assessments, fines, suspensions and expulsion.

Restriction of trusteeship over local unions and prohibition of geographical monopoly by two or more unions. This protects the right of a member to join any union he chooses.

Prohibition of waiver of right-to-strike and of excessively long-term contracts—except when approved by secret ballot.

RESTRICTION OF disguised bribes. Management may not give money or valuable presents to union leaders, and union leaders may not accept the same.

Senator Knowland, I think, best described his own bill with these introductory remarks. They should be of interest, Mr. Reuther, to you.

" . . . I . . . have discussed these problems personally with many members of various unions. If I can summarize their comments in a phrase, they requested that Congress give them assistance in obtaining democratic control by the rank and file of membership over the management and operation of local, regional and national unions. Mr. President, the bill I have just introduced is for that purpose." —Holmes Alexander

TO MY READERS

Roses are red
And violets are blue,
It's always the same
Old corn.
But kidding aside,
If it wasn't for you,
Of this pleasant task
I'd be shorn.

To put it more succinctly—I like you, too.

TODAY IS VALENTINE'S day. Proving again that sentiment is Big Business. Just ask the florists, the candy stores, the greeting card purveyors.

Take florists for instance. They say 60 per cent of their February business in February is in Valentine orders.

There seems to be more sentiment this year, too, they said, because business was expected to be up 15 per cent.

ANYTHING RED, say the florists, even tulips. But what does that make of the violets which are blue?

Candy is also a traditional Valentine gift but candy makers say their February business isn't up to the Christmas trade.

February sales account for 10 per cent of the annual candy business, Christmas, 25 per cent.

FEBRUARY CANDY business costs more, too, because the male of the species wants his sentiment spelled out in plain letters, easy to read.

None of this leave it to the imagination stuff, like that guy must like me.

They want those three little words: "I Love You," preferably in red cinnamon, right on the candy.

BUT GREETING CARDS are the biggest business of the day. It is estimated 400 million cards were sent today. That amounts to about 40 million dollars worth of business. Well up from last year.

They say we are in a recess. Well, that's the time to play, isn't it?

TODAY'S CARDS are more sophisticated than mushy, the dealers say. And there has been a change.

The old "vinegar" cards which carried a vicious message, like we used to send to the teachers (old enough to remember?) are dead.

Today's cards along that line carry a more subtle insult.

NOW FOR A BIT of history.

Know how Valentine's Day started? Seems it's 1,638 years old. It was, so the old legend goes, on Feb. 14, 270 A.D. that a young Roman priest named Valentine was executed for refusing to renounce Christianity.

The blind daughter of his jailer had befriended him so he sent her a farewell message.

It was signed: "From Your Valentine."

STILL DISCUSSING this day, do you know that women send more Valentines than men? Well, they do.

And they are all pretty ones, too.

But that is changing, say the greeting card dealers. Men are buying more and more Valentines.

But they aren't so pretty.

Dr. Fermin Reygadas is a Mexico City dentist who will visit the States next week. He will speak before American dentists.

"The tourist comes to Mexico and says, 'What wonderful teeth the Mexicans have!' But that is not always true," said the Doctor. "For one thing, it is an illusion. Teeth always look better in a dark face. They appear more white."

"Teeth are not good in Mexico."

"IN THE COUNTRY yes. As soon as the native moves to the city, his teeth go bad in exactly the same ratio as any other city in the world."

"The reasons teeth are good in the country is the result of the savage survival of the fittest," said Dr. Reygadas. "When I treat a tooth, I consider first the individual. Then I consider his environment. The country. The civilization."

"IT IS NATURAL that our country people have good teeth. You have a family of ten persons and only five survive because life is hard. Multiply that by three centuries. The person you see in the country is the most healthy specimen Nature can produce."

"Now move this person to the city."

"He comes under new economic pressures. His diet is subject to propaganda. How long has it been since you ate liver?"

I could not remember offhand. For me liver is for cats. Our cat is high on liver.

"THE COUNTRY people eat by instinct," said Dr. Reygadas. "In Mexico we have a great need of more proteins. They eat everything that walks or crawls. They eat the insides, the richest food in vitamins."

"Once in a movie, I saw a lion make a kill of a zebra. The lion does not eat steaks, the muscle meat. He goes by instinct for the rich food inside. The muscle meat, he leaves for the dogs."

"Where in the States do they serve sweetbreads? Maybe San Francisco and New York. But by propaganda, you think steak is the most socially acceptable food. You have mental barriers again many foods. The Indian in the back country has no social barriers like these."

"THE PRIMITIVE Indian moves to our city with good teeth and good dietary habits. He is subject to social food. He is bombarded with propaganda to eat candies and sweet soft drinks. Soon, the dentist is at work on his children."

After he speaks in the States, Dr. Reygadas will not come back to Mexico City. He will fly to the remote capital of Lower California, La Paz.

"YOU START BY studying teeth. Then you must go to the individual. The individual leads you to his environment. And the environment leads you to the world we live in. They are interdependent."

"I would like to start a university in La Paz. Not a university of great buildings but a university of ideas. Once all the cultures of the world were in the Mediterranean. But the Mediterranean has moved. Where? Maybe to the United States or Mexico."

"WHY LA PAZ? It is a good climate and I like the name 'The Peace.' We need peace in the world. So I go from teeth to peace. Possibly this will improve teeth."

"I would like a university of all countries in the Pacific. Let all countries send us professors and students. Let each discuss the best of his cultures."

"Who cares about buildings? Let them teach under a tree. If the students wander away, the professor has no message."

"WHAT ABOUT TEETH? I brush my teeth every day and

"With toothpaste," said Dr. Reygadas. "Believe me, toothpaste can become a bad habit. The tooth is not inert. It has its own protections. Too much of this toothpaste can remove the protections."

" . . . And I think it's high time we girls learn something about science . . . If that's the kind of a world we're going to run! . . ."

EARL WILSON:

She Goes Motorcycling

NEW YORK—A beautiful red-head, Paula Stewart, took me for a ride on her motor scooter and told me a strange Broadway story.

Rain lashed us in the face and wind roaring out of a side street almost lifted us off Park Av. We splashed through puddles and were practically nudged by trucks whose drivers yelled, "Hey, lady, want a lift?"

"I scare off more boy friends this way," Paula called back over her shoulder. "One of them always wants to ride with his Hornburg on."

I was cold and wished to be somewhere other than on the rear saddle of this amazing conveyance. Paula, who also pilots a plane, kept congratulating me on not being scared. Little did she know.

"At first I thought it was a tom-boyish, corny thing," yelled Paula, who's been in "Threepenny Opera," "Brigadoon," "Carousel" and top cafe shows. "Pedestrians are our biggest problem."

"They dare you to hit them. They don't think they can be hurt. Cab drivers try to play kneeys with me on the highway."

We were chugging downtown to call on another beauty, Zahra Norbo, the former "Miss Sweden," now a drama student. Zahra asked Paula whether the scooter interfered with her acting career.

"Quite the opposite," answered Paula, a Chicago-born Northwestern graduate.

"For quite a while I wanted to meet and get an audition with Arthur Klein. He was producing a show called 'Lady in Waiting.'"

"But he wanted a big star for the part. I'm not that yet."

"One day I was going to an audition for another show on my scooter. My accompanist was with me."

"Passing Shubert Alley, I saw a man step off the curb. I nearly ran him down."

"I was in such a hurry, I said, 'Gee, I'm awfully sorry. Excuse me now, because I'm going to an audition.'"

"He said, 'You don't mean you're an actress and ride that thing, too?'"

"I said, 'Yes, but I can't talk about it now. I'm due at an audition—'"

"He said, 'My name is Arthur Klein, and—'"

So she auditioned for him and got the part. And now:

"He says he's going to put in the contract that I can't ride the scooter any more. But I won't let him. With a scooter I can find a place to park!"

Presley's Moving to Beverly Hills

HOLLYWOOD — Budd Schulberg is paging an Irish-American named Tyrone Power to play an Irish-American named F. Scott Fitzgerald in Schulberg's screenplay about Fitzgerald, acknowledged by ol' man Ernest Hemingway himself as the top writer of the Roaring '20s. "The Disenchanted."

"Tamango," a new French-made movie co-starring Dorothy Dandridge and Curt Jurgens, will never get by the U.S. censors. It's already been banned in Africa and Algeria.

ELVIS PRESLEY told his realtor to sell the old homestead in Memphis and buy one for him and his family in the Hills of Beverly . . . Asked what he's going to do with his fleet of streamlined cars while he's in the Army, Sir Swivel proclaimed, "I'll leave 'em in charge of my folks, after all, as the old saying goes, you can't take it with you!"

Fox picked up its option on Pat (summa-cum - LOUDER!) Boone for another movie . . . Overheard in a movie producer's office: "The script is okay, as far as scripts go, but the ending seems far-fetched — the writer actually lets the guy and his girl live happily ever after!"

IT WAS A BOX OFFICE dud in the U.S. but "The Spirit of St. Louis" has been named the best American picture of 1957 by Japanese movie courier who criticized her costuming: "It's not the dress that counts, it's what's in it!"

They're juggling Gene Kelly to join Judy Holiday in M-G-M's "Bells Are Ringing" . . . The lads are following Mike Todd's phone-in-the-car lead. Frank Sinatra, Tony Curtis, Eddie Fisher and Dean Martin, all hip to the auto - ameches, have had them installed in their shot-rods.

BEN GAZZARA will fight the good fight in Fox's "The Big War" . . . Same studio is swatting out Lauren Bacall's fourth-city personal appearance tour to plug her new movie, "Gift of Love" — about $8,000 worth. Of which $1,400 has already gone to a furrier for a coatful of cool threads to cover the doll's fragile frame, plus another $1,000 for her expenses in New York City alone.

They're de-mothballing an old Lerner & Loewe musical, "The Day Before Spring," at M-G-M. The studio paid $250,000 for it back about '40 and it's been gathering dust or the story department shelves ever since.

L & L THEMSELVES are demoting their white-tie & tails outfits for Queen Elizabeth's Command Performance of an o's smash, "My Fair Lady," in the shadow of Buckingham Palace in May.

A new biceps-&-brown boy named Bud Pennell is now No. one for the title role in "Jack Dempsey" if they ever get it off the canvas.

TV TOPICS — Johnny (Mr. Most) Mathis had this to tell me over a Derbyburger at the Hollywood Brown Derby: "My first agent wanted to change my name to Johnny Music so I got another agent. Man, I changed THAT channel real quick!"

Mathis is current getting $1,500 a week at the Crescendo on Hollywood's Sunset Strip and will receive the same salary when he does a return stand at the Black Orchid in Chicago — but these are old, "payoff" commitments.

When he plays the Fairmount in San Francisco he'll get $5,000 per week plus 60 per cent of the cover charges after the first $4,000 is taken in, then $7,500 at the Copacabana in New York, then $12,500 at the Bolero Club in Wildwood, N. J., then $20,000 at the Riviera in Las Vegas — and who's this Belafonte we've been hearing about?

I WENT TO SEE that funny man, Jimmie Komack, in "Wish You Were Here" at Las Palmas, a Hollywood "little theatre." The show let out just as the last performance of "Bridge on the River Kwai" finished at the Egyptian Theatre, around the corner on Hollywood Boulevard. Walking through the mob just out of the movie theatre with my theatre going pals, Carolyn Jones and Aaron Spelling, Miss Jones hugged the mink coat she purchased with her Playhouse '60 salary, and squealed, "Just look at all those wonderful people coming out of the Egyptian — they go to MOVIES!"

All of which proves nothing except that Miss Jones's coat came from her TV earnings and NOT from the role she played in a new movie called "Marjorie Morningstar!"

INCIDENTALLY, KOMACK'S funniest bit in this version of "Wish" wasn't in the Broadway original: It's about a guy who plays ping pong backwards and snells it backwards too — "gnop gnip."

Leland Hayward, co-producer of "Savonarra," is producing a teleseries, "The Dog That Wouldn't Be," with Richard Whorf directing . . . Producer Sol Lesser's deal with the Edgar Rice Burroughs estate to film Burroughs' "Tarzan" stories calls for a payment of $125,000 per series.

Imperial Motors Is Newest Auto Dealership in This Resort Area

Imperial Motors, newest automotive dealership in the resort area, this week opened a sales showroom and service garage in a modern new building at 68-350 Highway 111, in the rapidly growing Sunair area.

Owned and operated by Kay Oleson, prominent Village businessman, Imperial Motors is authorized dealer for Imperial, Chrysler and Dodge autos and Dodge "Power Giant" Trucks.

General manager of the dealership is Jerry Engles, who said the new plant boasts the latest in shop service equipment and a staff having lengthy experience in both sales and service.

Engles reported that a large number of new, 1958 cars have already been placed on display. He added that company policy will allow sales of "only the finest trade-ins from local new car sales in the Imperial Motors used car department."

Police Officer Commended For Arrests

An alert Palm Springs police officer was today commended for the arrest of three burglary suspects who admitted their parts in a recent series of minor car clouts.

Patrolman Neal Green won an official commendation from Police Chief August Kettmann for the arrest Tuesday of three young Marines in downtown Palm Springs.

A fourth Marine was booked in city jail today after he was linked to theft of two auto wheels and tires, an estimated 100 gallons of gasoline, two car radios, golf clubs, binoculars and other miscellaneous items taken from cars in Palm Springs and the Coachella Valley were credited today by Kay Oleson for his decision to build a new agency in the new Sunair district of Palm Springs.

Arrested by Green Tuesday were Thomas P. Briley, 18; John Joseph Cwierzynia, 19, and Alvin Clarence Hoppe, 18, all of Twenty-nine Palms Marine Base. Edward John Tofil, 18, was arrested at the same time.

The waters provide conditions favorable to the growth of plankton, and make a rich oceanic pasture for fish. Fishermen have been filling their shops with cod from the banks for 450 years.

Kay Oleson Demonstrates Faith in Desert Area Growth

Long experienced in the retail automobile business, plus an intimate knowledge over many years of Palm Springs and the Coachella Valley were credited today by Kay Oleson for his decision to build a new agency in the new Sunair district of Palm Springs.

Called Imperial Motors, the new business has been appointed the direct factory dealership for Imperial, Chrysler and Dodge passenger cars and Dodge "Power Giant" trucks, serving the entire Palm Springs market.

OLESON, WELL KNOWN in Palm Springs business circles, started in the automobile business 27 years ago, selling Chrysler Corporation products. This week he celebrates the completion of 12 years as a dealer in this market. The new improvement represents a sizeable investment in the future of the Palm Springs auto market, Oleson reported.

"I BELIEVE THAT the expansion and development of this area has only begun," he said. "Where there are people, there's business, and where there is business there's a need for cars and trucks. I'm betting pretty heavy on this belief, and my confidence is based on a lot of experience in the auto business in this area."

Jerry Engles, with 20 years experience in the car business, has been appointed general manager of the new agency at 68-350 Highway 111. Oleson also has a complete auto facility at 83-095 Highway 99 in Indio.

Conservatives Suffer Defeat

LONDON 13—The Conservative Party suffered a major defeat in Wednesday's parliamentary by-election in Rochdale. Even party newspapers described the loss today as a "shattering" one.

The Conservative seat in the House of Commons was won by Laborite Jack McCann, a 47-year-old diesel engine fitter. The Conservative candidate could do no better than third behind the Liberal Party.

The Socialists immediately set up their usual clamor for immediate general elections in which they believe Prime Minister Harold Macmillan would be voted out of power.

AUGUSTA, Me. — (UP) — The "deer kill" during Maine's 1957 hunting season included two cows, a prize bull and a bull calf, all mistaken by hunters for deer.

Carter to Show Films Saturday

Miki Carter, prominent lecturer-photographer, will show colored pictures which will be screened at 8 p.m. in the Frances Stevens School Auditorium.

Carter, who filmed Hollywood's "Tarzan" movie series, will also narrate for the wild life motion films on African big game at Saturday's Desert Museum Guest Lecture program.

Rev. Hogan Rites Held Feb. 12

Funeral services for J. Jerome Hogan, former minister of the Palm Springs and Indio Church of Christ, were held at 10:30 a.m., Wednesday, at the Snivley and Patterson Funeral Home in North Long Beach.

Rev. Hogan died Sunday at his home in that city.

Unbridled Boom Forecast for United States by Head Of California Real Estate Association in Talk Here

California Real Estate Association President Clive Graham last night forecast an unbridled boom for the United States which, he said, will break all previous prosperity records.

Graham, speaking before some 100 members and guests of the Palm Springs Real Estate Board, declared that the nation will be visited by "a great new business boom" within the next five or six years.

THE CREA CHIEF executive issued his forecast in the face of government reports that set unemployment at 4½ million in January, the highest level since 1950. But, he pointed out, "we created 10 million new jobs since 1950 and the momentum of new products and new ideas are certain to alter unemployment figures by the 1960s."

"WE MUST ASSUME that something is going to happen," said the Long Beach realtor, reflecting on economic futures. "We'll either stay as we are, or go up or down. It's plain to see," he continued, "that in the next five years we'll witness gradual climb to a great new boom by 1962 or 1963." Graham based his prognostications principally on the maturity of today's children — the products of the wartime era. He explained that by 1962, one third of the American populace will be under 18 years. In 1950, he said, the same group accounted for 13.1 per cent of the population.

THE IMPACT OF new families, he added, will be bolstered by new productivity stemming from new ideas.

Graham's predictions reached still farther into the future as he traced the progress of his boom through the 1980s. He told the Village realtors that prosperity will reach new heights in two decades.

In 25 years, six million babies will be born per annum, the nation's population will soar to 250 million, and productivity will increase proportionately.

BUT PROSPERITY has its price.

"Prices are high today, and they'll be higher tomorrow," he said. "Prices of consumer goods will increase 15 per cent in 10 years and 50 per cent in 25 years."

Graham saw a particularly healthy future for the real estate industry, which, he asserted, will be the "number one hedge" against a recession during the leapfrogging, upward spiraling economy of the next 20 years.

HE NOTED THAT "there is no reason for a pessimistic outlook," pointing out that "home financing is not inflationary."

Viewing an open valve on the flow of home financing credit, Graham urged that "we should be borrowers instead of lenders over the long term."

Graham was introduced to the resort area realtors attending the El Mirador Hotel meeting by H. Jackson Pontius, of Arcadia, CREA secretary.

Ernie Dunlevie, president of the Palm Springs Real Estate Board, presided at the meeting which featured such guests as Hugh Green, president of the Desert Hot Springs Realty Board; Bob Irvine, president of the Cathedral City Realty Board, and George Roy, president of the Coachella Valley Realty Board.

Six New Homes Spark Building In Palm Desert

PALM DESERT — Six new homes sparked a week-long building drive that brought $66,962 worth of new construction to the Palm Desert area this week.

Building permits for the week were issued by the County Building Department office here to: J. J. Edixen, San Antonio, dwelling, $8,547; Mrs. Grant, 46-058 Verbena Santa, addition, $1,875; J. M. Wenck, Driftwood and Candlewood Drives, three homes, at $8,992 each.

Charles White Jr., 45-771 Panorama Road, dwelling, $12,048; Roberts Construction Company fire damage, $1,500; R. Hargrove, Santa Rosa Way, addition, $3,600; ming pool, $3,000.

Jack Noble, Sonora Drive, dwelling, $9,116; J. H. Mathewson, 47-077 Deep Canyon Road, enclosure porch, $300; William Craig, 72-992 Bel Air Road, swimming pool, $3,000.

New Concrete Forms Speed Job Completion

A new type of concrete form which consists of thick fire plywood panels and special fastenings is now being used by many contractors.

Several have reported that concrete form work can be accomplished twice as fast as with conventional forming methods.

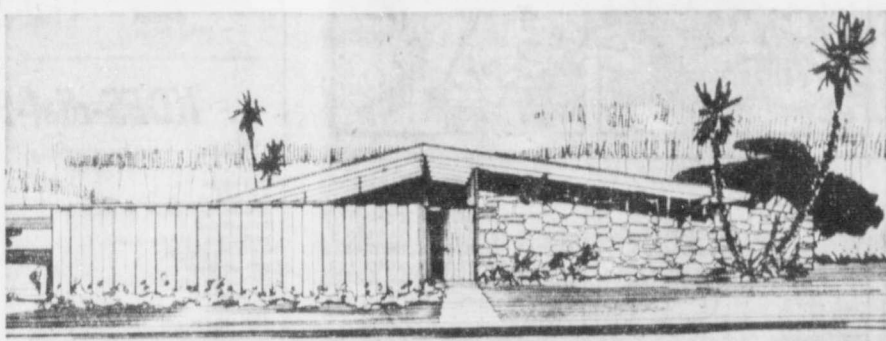

The new technique has been perfected and proven over a three-year period by Form Co., Incorporated, of Rockford, Illinois, and has now been patented. The panels are 1½ inch exterior-type (waterproof) fire plywood which have been pre-drilled and pre-fitted with special rust-resistant fastener hardware.

The panels are fitted with anchor nuts which are counter-bored into the plywood so there is no protruding surface hardware.

ABOVE IS ONE OF THE three model homes, one completely furnished, to be viewed in Valley of the Sun Estates, newest George Holstein development near Tamarisk Golf Course. All homes are architect designed, with the home, patio and pool all tied in for functional year-round living. All have five ton refrigeration units.

Area Building Drops in Value

CATHEDRAL CITY—Only four building permits, for a total of $14,728 in new construction, were issued for the Cathedral City area this week by the County Building Department office at Palm Desert.

Building permits were issued to: Rancho Ramon Water Company, Ramon Road, pump house, $648; J. B. Simerly, 68-343 Treasure Trail, breezeway $1,280; L. L. Snyder, 69-130 Victoria, apartment, $3,548; T. Whan, Barbara Drive, Rancho Mirage, addition, $9,000.

Coffee grinders and coffee makers prepare the perfect cup every time and any time.

Roasters, broilers, waffle irons and sandwich grills meet today's work and time saving needs. Toasters, hot plates and corn poppers round out, but by no means complete the list of electric housewares you'll want for your kitchen.

Luxury of Hotel Living Offered in Your Own Home

Luxury of hotel living is now offered in your own home with a one or two bedroom apartment in Desert Holly Own-Your-Own Apartments at 2244 McCallum Way.

Desert Holly was built and is being managed by Mr. and Mrs. William J. O'Brien, Jr., of Long Beach and Palm Springs.

BESIDES THE DEED to the apartment, the owners also get an undivided interest in the entire plot of land. The facilities at Desert Holly include a 26 foot by 44 foot swimming pool, with waterfall, two shuffleboard courts and private enclosed patio for each apartment.

The apartments feature complete built-in gas kitchens by Gafers & Sattler, fireplace, disposal, dishwasher, refrigerator, drapes and refrigerated air-conditioning.

THE DECOR of the interiors are modern, blending with the beautiful architecture and in good taste.

Building and operating an "own-your-own" apartment is not new to the O'Briens as they have a similar successful operation in Long Beach. A model apartment is open daily at Desert Holly for the public's inspection and is handled through the Graham Dexter Realty office at 315 North Palm Canyon Drive.

Gardener's Checklist

1. This is the best time for bare root planting unless you live in the mountains. Take advantage of the lower cost of bare root plants over container grown stock by planting now.

2. Prepare ground now if you intend to plant a new lawn next month.

3. If your soil resists cultivation, consult your local nurseryman for his recommendation concerning one of the excellent chemical soil conditioners now on the market.

4. Aerate existing lawn areas if drainage during the rainy season has been poor.

5. Check tuberous begonias in storage. If small pink shoots are showing it is time to plant the tubers.

Maine Deer

AUGUSTA, Me. — (UP) — The 1957 Maine deer kill of 40,142 was the third highest since the state has kept records. There were 41,730 slain in 1951 and 40,290 in 1956.

Electric vaporizers for aromatic medications help maintain the good health that is vital to the enjoyment of modern living. And for the relief of tired, aching muscles, there are heating pads, massagers and vibrators.

Gladiolus Offers Wealth Of Cut Flowers for Beauty

Gladiators received their title because they carried spears. Gladiolus were so named because they are spears—spears of lovely, colorful blossoms. For a wealth of cut flowers all summer long, gladiolus are one of the best choices, says the California Association of Nurserymen.

Glads are available in all shades of red, yellow, blue and white, so the home owner need have no difficulty in selecting bulbs for whatever decorative purpose he plans. For brightening the garden landscape, the home gardener's selection might include items from two or more of the basic in flowers for indoor decoration, the gardener might choose one of two shades which blend well with indoor color schemes.

WHICHEVER COLORS he selects, the home owner will find a wide selection of bulbs in his nurseryman's display cases. This year most nurserymen will feature the five varieties which have been selected for All-America Gladiolus awards by a non-profit rating organization with testing areas throughout the United States and Canada. There are three centers in California, at Hayward, Oceanside and Mt. Eden.

The five winners to date are Royal Stewart (red), Maytime (pink with white throat), Caribbean (blue with cream throat), Appleblossom (white with pink edges) and the latest (1958) winner, Emperor. The royal purple of Emperor clearly shows the origin of the name of this extra tall gladiolus.

ALL NORTH AMERICA gladiolus hybridists may enter All-America competition. Every variety is tested on fourteen specific traits, including color value, freedom from weathering, individuality, foliage health and husk and bulb health.

Gladiolus do best in moist, well-drained, fairly light loam. They should usually be planted from 4 to 6 inches apart and from 4 to 6 inches deep (more shallowly in heavy soil). The lovely spears of blossoms can be grown in formal rows or in informal clumps. While planning a landscape to include glads, the home owner should remember that the fully-matured spikes will rise from 4 to 6 feet in height, depending upon the variety.

Any time after danger of frost is over is good planting time for gladiolus bulbs. In most portions of the state where winters are very mild glads are planted as early as December. Many gladiolus enthusiasts, as well as other gardeners, have adopted a staggered planting program. This plan guarantees gorgeous spears for months at a time.

Save time and effort in preparing casserole and meat dishes by chopping and slicing a large amount of onions at one time and storing in freezer for use when needed. Use two bags, one inside the other to keep the odor and flavor from spreading.

Today's Sport Parade

By OSCAR FRALEY, United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK — Money may be the root of all evil, but as long as it won't buy poverty, the sports world is always interested in who makes the most loot and how much.

Ball players gasp when they hear that Ted Williams signed for $130,000 and figure, enviously, that he's getting paid for nothing but talent. Even Williams may find it unconceivable that a jockey named Willie Hartack earned an estimated $300,000 last year.

Which puts horse racing in the top monetary discussion brackets and explains the current preoccupation with the chances of a charger named Round Table to wind up as the leading money winner of all time.

THE ALL-TIME BEST in the banking department is, of course, the fabled Nashua. His wind sprints netted $1,288,565 and boosted him ahead of the first and only other equine millionaire, Citation, who earned $1,085,670.

These winnings aren't the greatest in sports history by any means when you consider that gentleman Gene Tunney picked up a personal portion of $990,445 in his second bid of fisticuffs against Jack Dempsey. But they'll still keep the Arctic howler away from the family portals.

Round Table is being regarded by improvers of the breed as Nashua's most likely challenger. Not that owner Travis Kerr, an Oklahoma oil man, needs the chips. It's just that Round Table is up to his pasterns in piastres already as a four year old.

THE COLT HAS WON $769,964 which places him seventh on the money winning list behind Nashua. Citation, Styrmie, Swaps, Armed and Native Dancer. Styrmie, who ran with the frequency of an eight-day clock, banked $918,485; Swaps $848,900; Armed $817,475; and Native Dancer $785,240. Round Table could pump all the way up to fourth place by copping the $100,000 added Santa Anita Handicap.

Which brings to the colt they could be talking about later this year and which does have a rollicking chance to supplant Nashua.

THAT'S JEWEL'S REWARD. The two year old champion who figures to be the top choice for the approaching glamor events such as the Wood, Kentucky Derby, Preakness and Belmont. All races incidentally, where each entry carries the same weight.

Jewel's Reward set an all-time record for two-year-old earnings last year with deposits totalling a dazzling $349,642. This was as unheard of as diamonds of the Bowery. The Maine Chance comet won only five of 12 races but when the big one, such as the Champagne Stakes and the Pimlico Futurity came along, he romped front and center.

We ought to take up a collection for Stan Musial. He only gets $100,000 a year.

2nd Shuffleboard Tournament to Start Next Week

Howard Haddock, City Recreation Superintendent said today that the second annual Citywide Shuffleboard tournament sponsored by the City Park and Recreation Department will start next Tuesday.

The semi-finals will be held March 5 and the finals March 7 at the Tamarisk Park Shuffleboard Courts.

Roy Leggett of Rancho Trailer Park will again be the chairman of the event. Entry blanks have been distributed to all trailer parks in the Palm Springs area and they will also be available at the Park and Recreation Department Office or from Roy Leggett, Rancho Trailer Park, Lot 22.

This particular tournament started last year and there were approximately 150 entries. Preliminary matches will be played off at the individual trailer parks or Tamarisk Park Courts.

"Anyone in the Palm Springs area is eligible to enter the tournament whether they live in a trailer park or residence. Entry fee is 25 cents per person and this is to cover part of the operating expenses," Haddock said. "Individual trophies will be presented to the first and second player of each event."

Events of the tournament will be men and women's singles.

Eldorado Polo Tournament to Benefit United Fund Drive

4 Teams Compete on Mar. 2

Eldorado Country Club's new polo field will be the scene of a four-team polo tournament Sunday, March 2, starting at 2 p.m., staged as Palm Desert's contribution to the Palm Springs United Fund.

The tournament will dedicate the new field at the club.

SCHEDULED TO COMPETE are the Eldorado team, Red Diamonds from Pomona, La Jolla and San Francisco.

On the Eldorado team are Blaine Stevenson, Santa Barbara, Lisle Nixon, Palm Desert and Shadow Mountain Stables, Irwin Arniz, Mexico City, and William Tevis of San Francisco and Palm Springs.

All proceeds from the sale of general admission and reserved seats will go to the Palm Springs United Fund.

WILLIAM TEVIS, well known in polo circles here and throughout the state is in charge of the new Eldorado field and is working to make Palm Desert and the desert area the polo center of the world.

Tevis is known as a polo pony breeder and trainer and as a star player.

Agencies handling tickets for the benefit will be announced next week.

Hoad Increases Lead in Gonzales Series to 10-7

WASHINGTON — Just when Pancho Gonzales figured he was catching up with Lew Hoad, the Aussie turned the tables on him. Gonzales, buoyed by his victory over Hoad at New York Wednesday night, hoped to tie their pro tennis series during a two-night stand in the nation's capital.

But Hoad whipped his Los Angeles rival, 6-3, 6-2. Thursday night to open a 10-7 lead in the 100-match world tour.

A crowd of 3,878 also watched Pancho Segura down Tony Trabert of Cincinnati, 9-7, in their one-set preliminary match. Hoad and Segura downed Gonzales and Trabert, 6-2, 3-6, 10-6, in doubles.

Indian Tankmen Meet Coachella In Opening Event

Vern Johnson, coach of Palm Springs High School swimming teams, was taking his first look at this year's teams today as the Indian Varsity and Bee teams clashed with Coachella High in the pool.

It is the first meet for the two schools.

Palm Springs competes in the Citrus Belt League in aquatic sports as most of the schools in Riverside County League do not field swimming teams.

Last year the Indians finished third in the CBL and sent two boys to the California Interscholastic Federation southland finals.

BOWLING

WOMEN'S BOWLING
Hathaway bowlers held a narrow one and one half point lead over Fireplace and Hoams Pools in the Women's Bowling League as result of last night's play at Palm Springs Bowling Academy.

Standings today listed Hathaway with 40½-31½; Fireplace, 39-33; Hoams Pools, 39-33; D.H.S. Rotary 37-35; Wheelettes, 34-38 and Babin Realty, 27½-44½.

Last night DHS Rotary outscored Babin Realty, 3-1; Fireplace defeated Hathaway, 3-1 and Hoams Pools won over Wheelettes, 4-0.

Hoams Pools rolled the high series at 2545 and took the high game with 911.

Dottie Manthey of Hoams Pools, rolled high individual series, 550, and high individual game, 220.

Dodgers All Set for Play in Los Angeles Coliseum

Only 3 Minor Details Remain To Be Settled

LOS ANGELES — The Dodgers had settled everything but a few "minor details" today for use of the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum by the National League club for the coming baseball season.

Supervisor Kenneth, chairman of the Coliseum Commission, listed three unsettled matters yesterday after meeting with Dick Wash, assistant to Dodger President Walter O'Malley.

Still to be settled, according to Hahn were commission proposals dealing with the possibility of a world series in the 102,000-seat stadium, television rights and examination of the Dodgers' books.

The Coliseum Commission wants—if there is a world series—10 per cent of the gate and share of concession profits after the first four games. Under world series procedure profit from the first four contests goes to the players.

The commission wants the right to audit Dodger books for all 77 home games and not just the one for which the Coliseum Authority will collect on concessions.

The commission wants 10 per cent of TV profits. The Dodgers announced that none of their games will be televised this year. Hahn said the proposal was designed to protect the public's interest in 1959.

Still unsettled, too, was the question of who shall pay the public liability insurance for the Coliseum. Users of the stadium pay premiums on the insurance under commission policy.

Despite the still unsettled matters, Hahn said he was sure the commission would give the Dodgers a "go ahead" today on plans to revamp the coliseum for baseball.

Curtice, Daugherty to Coach Shrine Teams
SAN FRANCISCO — Jack Curtice, who coached the West to a 27-13 upset over the East last December, has been re-named head member of the West squad for the 33rd annual Shrine game.

Hugh Duffy Daugherty of Michigan State will coach the East team.

Cold Wave Slows Majors in Florida

By TIM MORIARTY, United Press Sports Writer
Notice to all baseball players preparing to head south for spring training: You'd better pack some "woolies" and hand-warmers.

It was so cold at the St. Louis Cardinals' rookie camp at St. Petersburg, Fla., Thursday, that Manager Fred Hutchinson conducted a morning workout on the local YMCA basketball court. The afternoon drill was held at Al Lang Field, although the temperature was in the low 40's.

The New York Yankees, who also are conducting a rookie camp at St. Petersburg, didn't even attempt to schedule a workout because of the blustery weather.

Manager Casey Stengel gave his 36-man advance group the day off.

"THEY OUGHTA GIVE this weather back to the Eskimos," said Ole Case, a Californian by adoption.

Lee MacPhail, assistant general manager of the Yankees, showed up at St. Pete in an overcoat to conduct further salary talks with Mickey Mantle but learned that the star outfielder had gone to Miami to play in the baseball players golf tournament.

MacPhail now must wait until Monday to try to reach an agreement with Mantle, who reportedly is seeking a pay boost to $75,000 this year.

Meanwhile, back on the Yankees' northern ranch it was announced that catcher-outfielder Elston Howard had signed his new contract for $15,000. He played 71 games in left field last year but said "I hope to spend most of my time catching this year."

THE CINCINNATI REDLEGS revealed that center fielder Gus Bell and rookie southpaw Charley Rabe and Dave Skaugstad had come to terms leaving only six teammates unsigned.

The Detroit Tigers signed four players—Frank Bolling, Tom Yewic, Gus Zernial and Joe Presko—and now have 28 of their 39 men under contract.

Other signings included Arnold Portocarrero and Wally Burnette of the Kansas City Athletics, Frank Sullivan and Frank Kellert of the Boston Red Sox, and Jim Wilson of the Chicago White Sox.

FIRST IN SERIES OF TENNIS CLINICS SLATED TOMORROW

First in a series of tennis clinics scheduled for the Palm Springs area is set for 9 a.m. tomorrow morning at Tamarisk Park Courts. The clinics, under direction of Dave Gillan of the Racquet Club, are scheduled to continue until the end of the school year.

The clinics are open to all youngsters in the 9 to 14 years old age bracket.

Village youths interested in gaining proficiency in the court game are urged to be on hand at 9 a.m., tomorrow at Tamarisk Park courts to register for the clinic.

These tennis clinics are sponsored by The Desert Sun to assure continuance of Palm Springs as a leading tennis center.

Braves, Bees Play Elsinore High Tonight

Coach Jim Workman will take his Palm Springs Indian Varsity basketball team and his Bees to Elsinore tonight to meet the Elsinore Tigers in the 11th game of this year's 14-game schedule.

Elsinore is third in the Varsity race at 6-4 and the Indians, fourth at 5-5.

In the Bee races, Palm Springs is fourth at 5-5 and Elsinore fifth at 6-4.

In offense and defense, the two Varsity teams are about even. Palm Springs has run up 498 points against the same opponents on which Elsinore has scored 496. The same opponents have counted 482 points against the Indians and 483 against Elsinore.

In the Bee ranks, Palm Springs has scored 451 and Elsinore 350 against the same foes. Elsinore has allowed 414 points and the Papooses, 388.

Shaw Selected As Eagle Coach

PHILADELPHIA — Lawrence T. Buck Shaw, former coach of the Air Force Academy and the San Francisco Forty Niners in the National Football League, was reported today by the Philadelphia Inquirer to have been selected as head coach of the Philadelphia Eagles.

Kerwin Favored 7-5 In TV Bout Tonight

NEW YORK — Canadian Gale Kerwin is favored at 7-5 to hand German Stefan Redl his first defeat, as an unwelcome Valentine, tonight in their welterweight fight at Madison Square Garden. Their 10-rounder will be televised and broadcast nationally by NBC at 10 p.m. e.s.t.

Latin Horses To Get Break At Holly Park

Imports from South of Equator Will Carry Less Weight

INGEWOOD — Horses from south of the equator will get a special break on weights when the Hollywood Park season opens May 8.

General Manager James D. Stewart said Thursday the track's policy should encourage importation of more Thoroughbreds from Australia, New Zealand and Southern American countries.

He explained the reason for the special weight allowance like this:

"Because the seasons below the equator are the opposite of ours and the period of Thoroughbred foaling customarily follows Aug. 1 rather than Jan. 1 as in America and Europe, imported horses from the south are at least six months younger than ours and face an unfair situation when weighted on our accepted scale."

SOUTH-OF-THE-EQUATOR horses will get the weight concessions in seven of 33 stakes during Hollywood Park's season, including the $100,000 California and the $100,000 Western—both for 3-year-olds.

Condition statements for the seven races will note that registered Southern Hemisphere 3-year-olds foaled after Aug. 1 will be allowed 10 pounds, according to Racing Secretary John Malivue.

"American owners and breeders particularly those on the West Coast, have shown much interest in recent years in importing stakes winning stars from south of the equator," Stewart said. "but the inequality in ages and weights has deterred the importation of younger stock."

"Our innovation should encourage bringing in of new horses that will not only add interest to our racing but also valuable new bloodlines for our breeders."

James Ineligible to Compete for UCLA

LOS ANGELES — Sophomore David James, UCLA's top sprinter, has been declared ineligible to compete for the Bruin track team in the coming season.

James, who ran a 9.6-second hundred and 21.6 twenty-two last year, was declared ineligible Thursday because of scholastic difficulties.

TENNIS SEEDINGS MADE

NEW YORK — Barry MacKay, 20-year-old Davis Cupper from Dayton, Ohio, was seeded second today behind Kurt Nielsen of Denmark for the National Indoor tennis championships beginning in Feb. 19 at the 7th Regiment Armory.

Animal League Changes Meet

The Animal Protective League of Palm Springs today announced that until further notice, starting March 3, the regular membership meetings usually held on the third Monday of each month will convene immediately following the regular board of directors' meeting on the first Monday of each month at 8:30 p.m. at the office of Leonard Bock, 463 North Palm Canyon Drive.

This change is being made for the time being to reduce the number of monthly meeting nights, it was explained.

Old Fashioned Paddle Is Battling for a Place in Knoxville Schools Again

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (UP) — The old-fashioned paddle is battling for a place in Knoxville schools once more.

School authorities, beset by incidents of juvenile delinquency in the city system, have asked for a return of the "hickory stick." And next Tuesday the City Council will take up the request to repeal the 1913 ordinance that outlawed corporal punishment.

A SIMILAR PROPOSAL was made several years ago by former Mayor George R. Dempster, but he abandoned the idea when his office was flooded with phone calls from parents and students.

No one has expressed more delight at the possibility of permissible paddling than Chief of Police Joe Kimsey, whose only regret is that the paddle will never fall into his hands.

"I'M FOR IT," Kimsey said. "In fact, I'd like to take part in the paddling, and I think the same thing should apply to parents. They should be paddled, too."

"After all," the police chief added, "we've tried everything else—it would be a definite help."

Kimsey and his men last week arrested several teenagers after a junior high school coach was severely beaten at a basketball game. There also have been reports of a student fighting a teacher, a girl cutting another girl with a knife and the setting off of dynamite.

SCHOOLS SUPERINTENDENT Thomas N. Johnston conceded that "Discipline has been rather weak for the last several years." He said existing means of maintaining discipline — keeping students after school, withholding privileges, three-day suspensions—are not doing the job and said he would welcome paddling as "another aid."

Opposition to the board's request, if it materializes, probably will come from parents. Mrs. Frank Workman, head of the Knoxville council of the Parent-Teachers Association, took a dim view of the paddle request.

AS A PTA LEADER, she thinks paddling might be all right, if Repressuring oil wells with waste gas in southern Arkansas oil fields has attracted international attention, bringing visitors from foreign countries to study the engineering methods.

it's left to the principal to administer. But as a mother, she said, "I would have to think it over more fully before I'd let anyone whip my child." She has two children in school.

The students—who would be on the receiving end of the hickory stick activity—probably will not have a great say in the matter. But 14-year-old Cynthia Baggett, a ninth grader, probably feels like most kids. "It isn't fair," Cynthia said when informed of future possibilities. "Why can't they use psychology?"

Fathers Plan Calhulla P-TA Program

Fathers, under the leadership of Woody Woods, will take over the entertainment Tuesday evening, when Calhulla P-TA holds its regular monthly meeting in the school cafeteria.

They will present an epic entitled "Desert Doin's." The cast of what promises to be memorable entertainment, includes Herb Esbitt, Hy Finerman, Phil Siegel, Jack Miles, Don Crabtree, Herb Hass, Isadore Singer, Ray Corliss, Bill Maidhoff and Ray Chapman. Further information concerning this part of the program is top secret, even from Mrs. Hy Finerman, the program chairman.

Celebrating Founders' Day, as is usual with all parent-teacher associations, at their February meetings, life memberships in the California Congress of Parents and Teachers will be presented to two local residents who have been selected for this honor because of their contribution to youth work in Palm Springs. One man and one woman will be so honored and their names will not be revealed until the presentation is made.

Mrs. Herb Esbitt, P-TA president, will conduct the meeting.

Even Edward R. Murrow couldn't get Harpo Marx to talk . . . but he can . . . and chances are he might if you can get to him . . . to ask him about where he expects to be on the night of March 2 . . . That's the night he and his harp are among the top acts . . . in Musical Interludes . . . which the Music Society of Palm Springs will present at the Plaza Theatre that night . . . Harpo is an interested member of the Society . . . and will help put on a show that won't be forgotten soon . . . Maestro Jack Benny will emcee the show . . . and if he brings along his violin . . . this will be such a concert as doesn't happen often . . . and only some place like Palm Springs . . . and as a benefit . . . as this is for the United Fund . . .

In addition to that . . . there will be a flute-guitar act by Martin Ruderman and Laurindo Almeida . . . and Palm Springs Civic Chorus will sing . . . and there will be other top entertainment . . .

Tickets will range in price from $25 in the sponsors' section to $2.50 . . . and go on sale tomorrow at United Fund headquarters . . . Mrs. B. H. Poliak is chairman of ticket sales . . .

One of the most unusual events in a long time . . . was the wine tasting at Ocotillo Lodge . . . which was a benefit for City of Hope . . . and honored the Honorary President of Palm Springs Chapter of City of Hope . . . Elsinore Machris . . . Around 250 attended the very pleasant affair . . .

California has long been famous for its fine wines . . . and the ones offered came from the northcoast valleys where grapes are grown for the premium wines . . . There were six tables set up with bottles from major wineries . . . and wine glasses to hold just a small pouring . . . you hold the glass up to the light to see the brightness . . . sniff the glass to enjoy the clean bouquet . . . then take a small sip to taste the subtle flavors . . . Small squares of cheese were served to clear the taste buds for another wine . . . and some of us discovered new favorites . . . like Pinot Chardonnay from the Benoit's Almaden Vineyards at Los Gatos . . . and Chenin Blanc from the Charles Krug Vineyards at St. Helena . . .

Mrs. Machris was presented with a wine steward's chain and key and cup . . . She was introduced by Dr. Alfred Goldman of the City of Hope . . . and in response read her creed . . . Written by Stephen Grellet . . . it goes like this . . .

"I shall pass through this world but once. Any good therefore that I can do, or any kindness that I can show to any fellow creature . . . let me do it now . . . Let me not defer or neglect it . . . for I shall not pass this way again . . ."

From the wine tasting . . . we hurried over to El Mirador . . . where Ernie and Bernie Young had taken over two long tables for their 50 some guests . . . The party celebrated the hostess's birthday . . . and there was a monstrous big birthday cake . . . the size and shape of a fiddle . . . Most of the guests were in Bavarian dress, of course . . . and enjoyed the regular Wednesday night festivities . . . dancing the polka and singing . . .

This popular weekly event continues to draw big crowds . . . Last night there were more than 500 . . .

Thursday La Paz held a dinner celebrating its new ownership . . . and it was opening night for Frankie Ortega . . . who has been at the Desert Inn . . . Mike Stimac, formerly with Howard Manor, is the new maitre'd at La Paz . . . and I understand the Spur and Sable Room has been re-named Saints and Sinners . . . Opening that same night at Desert Inn . . . for a return engagement . . . was Page Kavanagh and his Trio . . . who were so popular when here before . . .

Last night, too, was the first of the Thursday night luau in El Mirador's South Pacific Room . . . with George Kainapau and his Island Serenaders weaving an island spell with their sweet music . . . There was other entertainment . . . a buffet of authentic cantonese food . . . and fresh flower leis . . . Luau costumes were in order . . . and this promises to be one of the fun times each week . . .

A COMPLETE COLLECTION of Alken's sport sketches form an interesting arrangement in the dining room of the Frank Bennett home, which is one of the six homes that will be open to inspection Sunday when the America Association of University Women hold their second annual House Tour. Sketched in 1817, it is a rarity to find all 37 sketches in one collection. Here Arthur Elrod, the interior decorator who has assisted Mrs. Bennett in redecorating the Bennett home, assists in lining up the pictures.

Mrs. Leathers Hostess at Several Events

Mrs. Paul Leathers entertained around 60 at her home at 442 Avenida Palmera, when she hosted one of a series of teas. She was assisted by Mrs. Glenn Watson and Mrs. Daniel McCauley, who presided at the tea table.

On Saturday night the Leathers entertained at dinner honoring Mr. and Mrs. Ransom Carver of Hillsborough. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Mowat and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Carlston of Los Angeles. His Honor the Mayor of Victoria, B. C. Percy Skoura and Mrs. Skoura were honor guests at a Sunday night dinner at the Leathers' home. Guests were the Glenn Watsons and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lainsou of Nebraska.

Today Mrs. Leathers arranged a no-hostess luncheon for 50 in the Candlewood Room at Ocotillo Lodge. It was for visiting P.E.O.s and Mrs. Skoura, past Supreme President of P.E.O. was the guest of honor. Assisting with luncheon arrangements were Meses. Valentine Motif Marks Card Party

The beautiful club rooms of the Palm Springs Woman's Club, appropriately decorated in a Valentine's Day motif, were taxed to capacity Monday afternoon, when over 130 women gathered for luncheon and cards.

Minks and hats of the city guests blended with the more casual, summery clothes of the local members but it all added up to a gay and happy scene.

An abundance of door prizes, attractive and appetizing food, plus 13 charming and hospitable hostesses assured everyone a pleasant afternoon.

Those assisting Mrs. Grace Steenberg, who planned and executed the delightful affair, were: Mmes. Benjamin O. Wells, Walter Bachman, Paul Lyons, A. H. Lawrence, William Frost, Oliver Grew, M. J. Gardner, Ed Gardner, Herb Winkler, George Smith, Jules Springer, and Miss Leona Victoria Smith.

A Valentine party for the Palm Springs Federated Junior Women's Club was also a farewell for the Club president Mary Ratcliff, who leaves soon to join her husband Ted, new manager of the Apple Valley Inn. Mrs. Ratcliff received a corsage and a gavel plaque, which were presented to her on behalf of the club, by 1st vice president Emily Williams.

Valentine cakes and ice cream were served by the hostess, who was assisted by Dorothy Anderson. Guests for the evening were: Sarah DiGrandi, Evelyn Schilling, June Johnson, Millie Bell, Enid Rauber, Marge Rauber.

Here to pay tribute to Mrs. Machris were City of Hope executives, including Dr. Alfred Goldman. Presentations to the guest of honor included a sommelier key and testovin (which is the silver wine cup) and a Wine Tasting certificate from the Academy of Master Wine Growers of California. The Palm Springs Chapter of City of Hope also presented her with a leather bound guest book, that was signed by those in attendance. Wines from the Almaden Vineyards at Los Gatos, the Beaulieu Vineyards at Rutherford, the Charles Krug Vineyards at St. Helena, Louis Martini of St. Helena, Wente Brothers of Livermore, Weibel Vineyards of Mission San Jose. Desert Hospital Takes Special Pride in Food Service

CHOOSING HIS MENU, Hutch Moseley, a recent patient at Desert Hospital, goes over the menu with Dietitian Bonnie Graffin to pick out the things he would like to eat for his next three meals. The dietitian checks with patients each morning for their choice of foods.

AT NOON DINNER trays are lined up with the patients' menus on each tray. The trays are loaded with the specially prepared foods and taken directly up to the rooms. Working on the trays, above left to right, are Wynema Ward, Helen Cranfel, Lolabelle Crawford, Mae Hill, Blanche Nestern and Jimmie McWilliams.

PREPARING FOOD for the trays, Wynema Ward goes to the other side of the service counter to be put a plate of food on a tray and it is checked made ready for the patients, by Bonnie Graffin. After it is checked the tray

STERILIZED AND HOT the dishes are taken out of an automatic steamer by Eva Black to be handed to the cooks to be filled with hot foods. In the kitchen of Desert Hospital the main care is for neatness, cleanliness, and well prepared foods.

SPECIAL DIETETIC DISHES are also prepared separately for patients at the hospital. Here Wynema Ward weighs a steak in preparation for a patient. In diet menus a patient must not only have certain foods to eat, but can only have certain amounts in most cases.

Desert Hospital Unique In Special Food Service

By FRED WEIGEL

Even the world's finest gourmet would be one of the first to acknowledge that the specialty dishes prepared and served by the kitchen staff at the Desert Hospital are the finest anywhere.

Under the direct supervision of Bonnie Graffin, A.D.A. dietitian, 15 employees serve more than 200 meals a day—each prepared especially for the individual patient.

DESERT HOSPITAL is not the first place where Miss Graffin has served in a supervisory capacity. After graduation from Mundelein College in Chicago, she interned at the huge 3,000-bed Cook County Hospital in Illinois. She came to Palm Springs and became the local hospital's first Director of Dietetics in September of 1957.

She is assisted in her job here by Mina Eisenman, for many years kitchen supervisor.

IN THE AVERAGE home the preparation of individual meals for each member of the family would be a chore that would cause a major household revolt.

At Desert Hospital, the cooks not only prepare separate dishes for all the patients, but give the patient a choice of what they might like to eat.

ONE OF THE first things that happens in the morning when you are a patient at Desert Hospital, is Bonnie Graffin coming to your room to find out what you want to eat for the three basic meals, breakfast, dinner and supper.

The biggest meal at Desert Hospital is the noon meal, known as dinner, and the evening meal, supper, is lighter and more digestible before sleeping time.

THERE ARE possibly 50 diets that can be served to patients in a hospital, and each is different. One patient may have a salt-free diet, another a bland diet, and still another a hyperinsulinism diet. Each tray must not only be individually prepared but must be kept separate so that the right patient receives the right tray, containing the food especially prepared for them.

In the kitchen of the hospital the crew of some 15 employees do this, and this is how they do it:

SHORTLY BEFORE noon, the staff puts out trays on long cafeteria style counters that run through the kitchen. On these trays are first placed the silverware, glassware, and a small spindle which holds a card with the patient's name and list of items that the patient has selected for that particular meal.

The cards also show the kind of diet that the doctor has ordered for the patient. (For instance, if the card shows a bland diet and the patient wanted string beans, the vegetable may have to be pureed.)

Then the cooks prepare individual meals for the patient and they are placed on carts and taken to the patients in their respective rooms.

THE FACILITIES of the kitchen at Desert Hospital are more complete than many of the finest restaurants downtown, and it is kept immaculately clean.

One of the most difficult jobs of Dietitian Bonnie Graffin is to prepare dietetic food so it tastes like by adding substitute salt or sugar, and it brings out the original flavor and is far more palatable.

The dietitian checks each tray before it is sent out of the kitchen to make sure that the correct items are on the tray. Then the meals are sealed in a hot dish which will keep the meal hot for two hours if necessary.

THE HOSPITAL bakery bakes everything except bread.

After the trays are returned to the kitchen, each one is again checked to see if the patient has eaten the things he or she is supposed to have.

In some cases records are kept for the doctors on what and how much of the food was eaten by a patient.

According to Miss Graffin, the food bill for Desert Hospital runs approximately $3,000 a month.

THIS IS NOT a normal operation for hospitals, but is a regular service of the Desert Hospital. Very few hospitals have the select menu method of patient feeding.

Aside from the regular three meals a day that are served, Desert Hospital, of course, has to serve dozens of special meals a day. Patients who were not able to eat at mealtime due to X-ray examinations or some similar thing may have to wait until 10 a.m. to be served breakfast, or another patient who has had a stomach operation may have to have 5 or 6 meals a day and must eat every few hours. All these are taken care of by the kitchen staff.

AND UNDER THE supervision of Miss Graffin are small diet kitchens in each wing of the hospital. From these a patient can be served a "filler" snack between meals or late at night.

It's a wonderful day to be reminded of wonderful things. Things like our fortunate position on the map—a place to be envied by everyone who isn't here, and the fact that our Desert Sun is read and enjoyed by a greater cross section of people from more varied areas than any other.

This is understandable for we have so many things of interest to present. Like the fascinating shop, TWEEDS & WEEDS, with their array of quality clothing.

It is a true joy to shop where good taste is so much in evidence and where season after season fashions for both men and women are presented with a great sense of pride.

ORIGINAL FASHIONS are many at Tweeds & Weeds and a favorite is their approach to the costume look with a sweater and skirt.

The skirt is a slim 8 gore in your choice of cashmere or tweed, back lined to insure its continued good fit. The sweater is heavenly cashmere, of course, in one of many styles—the outstanding wizardry is the trim which is applied by hand of the same material as the skirt. The result is an amazingly versatile coordinated costume to make you comfortable and smart for many occasions.

THERE IS A WEALTH of fine fabrics in this shop and few things speak so elegantly for themselves as suits, top coats, or separate jackets made of them. To insure the ultimate in satisfaction and appearance everything is made to your own measurements—we all know that this is the only way to be sure of a proper fit and any clothing not properly fitted immediately loses its charm.

It is interesting to know something of the care exercised by this shop in their choice of fabrics for you. They scan the continents to bring you the finest... like their cashmere cloth which is made in the extreme north of Scotland where these people have maintained their high standards for generations and can rightly say that they are the prime makers of this beautiful fabric.

THERE IS ALSO their hand woven shetland which comes from the Shetland Isles. There is a limited supply of this fine fabric and that is explained by the fact that the wool comes from a special breed of sheep whose origin is not known but has been on the islands for over 1,000 years.

The animal has such a fine coat that it is striped instead of sheared in the usual manner. Then there is a wool cloth referred to as Hopsacking. The name of the weave comes from its appearance resembling the baskets used in this Southern Scotland area for picking hops. Its texture is extremely beautiful and it is known to last almost forever. Interestingly, it is made at a small water powered mill.

ALL OF THESE fabrics made with such care at such far away places are brought here for you to enjoy and wear proudly. Some thing you must see next month at Tweeds & Weeds—something you won't be able to live without—are women's top coats made in Ireland—county Wexford!

They are high fashion news in Irish tweed—the fabric that designers make a point of. The colors are magnificent and the quality is unrivaled. In county Wexford where the fabric is produced, the whole village contributes. From the tending of the sheep to the final washing of the cloth, it is all their own.

It's no wonder that shopping at Tweeds & Weeds is such a satisfaction. (1073 North Palm Canyon)

The Wrong Bag

GREENWICH, Conn. — (UP) — After buying what he thought was a bag of nuts, Peter Keubish found he had $252.37 instead. He returned to the store to find the distraught manager looking for the day's receipts which he had placed in the bag, pending deposit in a bank.

The handsome pink flamingo spends hours preening and primping. Its beauty calls to mind the feather boas and plumed hats of the late 19th century. Flamingos, however, were generally spared by the plume hunters because their color fades rapidly after death.

HOUSE GUESTS of Mary P. Young over the week-end were Doctor and Mrs. Mark Stone of Beverly Hills and Pacific Palisades. Dr. Stone is a well known psychoanalyst in Beverly Hills. Mrs. Stone is to be installed as charter president of the Pacific Palisades B'nai B'rith Women this week. The Stones are regular visitors to the desert each season and are seeking the ideal site for a residence and sanatorium in this area. (Desert Sun Photo)

Board of Freeholders Revises Proposed Employees' Merit System, Then Adopts It

Members of the County Board of Freeholders this week approved an extensively revised provision for a county employees' merit system in their 25th meeting for creation of a county charter.

Freeholders re-drafted merit system regulations proposed by Dr. Arvo Van Alstyne, board consultant, because they apparently drew too close a parallel to a civil service system.

THE FINAL DRAFT of the proposed charter provision contained severe alterations of personnel sections recommended by Van Alstyne, UCLA law professor, reported Board Chairman Fred Eldridge.

Principal revisions dealt with the eligibility list for appointment of county personnel and authority of the county personnel commission.

Freeholders amended the charter provision on eligibility, deleting the requirement that appointees must be one of the top three names on a list of eligible applicants.

THE BOARD ALSO restricted the personnel commission's rule making authority by stipulating that the commission shall adopt and amend merit system rules

"subject to approval or revision of the Board of Supervisors."

Eldridge said that this action was based on the board's opinion that "basic policy making should reside with the Board of Supervisors" and that "the personnel commission should be in an advisory capacity only."

ONLY CONTESTED point brought up during the personnel discussion was a charter provision prohibiting political activities of county employees.

The board voted seven to four for approval of a charter provision forbidding county employees to take organized action in support of, or in opposition to, any candidate for county elective office.

THE SECTION, which Eldridge said, "does not attempt to inhibit political activities in city, state or national elections," also prohibits department heads and other candidates from soliciting support from county employees.

Next meeting of the Board of Freeholders was scheduled for 9 a.m. Monday, at the Mission Inn in Riverside.

School Closed By Vandalism

SOUTH SAN GABRIEL — The Richard Garvey Elementary School was closed today because some 30 rooms in the school were wrecked by vicious and methodical vandals.

Sheriff's deputies reported windows were broken, mirrors smashed, files and ink strewn all over the floors and telephones ripped out of the walls by the vandals Wednesday night.

Deputies also reported the wiring in the school switch board had been ripped out and expensive classroom equipment such as motion picture cameras, hi-fi sets and typewriters had been smashed.

Heidt Grants Right-of-Way

Horace Heidt is the most recent property owner along North Indian Avenue to give the city a right-of-way on both sides of the street to allow the widening of the thoroughfare to 64 feet.

This will allow the widening to as far north as Stevens Road, under planned construction this summer.

Blind Bowler

CHICAGO — (UP) — Robert Deane of Chicago set a city record when he bowled 186 199 and 224 for a 609 series. Deane, 19, is blind.

Pasadena Playhouse Actress Awarded Role of Ramona

HEMET—Sandra DuBow, one of the leading actresses of the famed Pasadena Community Playhouse, will play the role of Ramona, in the spectacular Ramona Outdoor Play, to be staged this year by the people of Hemet and San Jacinto, in the Ramona Bowl, the three weekends of April 19 and 20, April 26 and 27 and May 3 and 4. It was announced this week.

Miss DuBow will become the ninth woman to play the title role in the 31-year history of the colorful outdoor play.

THE 19-YEAR-OLD actress was chosen over ten other contestants for the part, by a panel of seven judges: Ralph Freud, director of the play; television actor Paul Richards; Dr. Walden Boyle, professor in the theater arts department at UCLA; William Watson, 1957 County Grand Jury chairman and head of the Hemet office of Security First National Bank;

Dr. W. R. Williams and Harry Hoffman, directors of the Ramona Pageant Association, and Mrs. Dorothy Bailey Vosburg, who had played the Ramona role for the past seven years.

A NATIVE OF Indianapolis, Indiana, Sandra DuBow came west to attend college in Monterey, Mexico and spent last summer in a stock company at Laguna. She is now in her second term at the Pasadena Community Playhouse, training ground for many now famous actresses.

Maurice Jara, of Claremont, will portray the Indian hero, Alessandro, for his seventh consecutive season.
